PlagScan

www.plagscan.com

What is PlagScan?

PlagScan is an entirely browser-based web service that verifies the authenticity of documents.

Files can be uploaded in all common file formats (MS Word, PDF and many more).

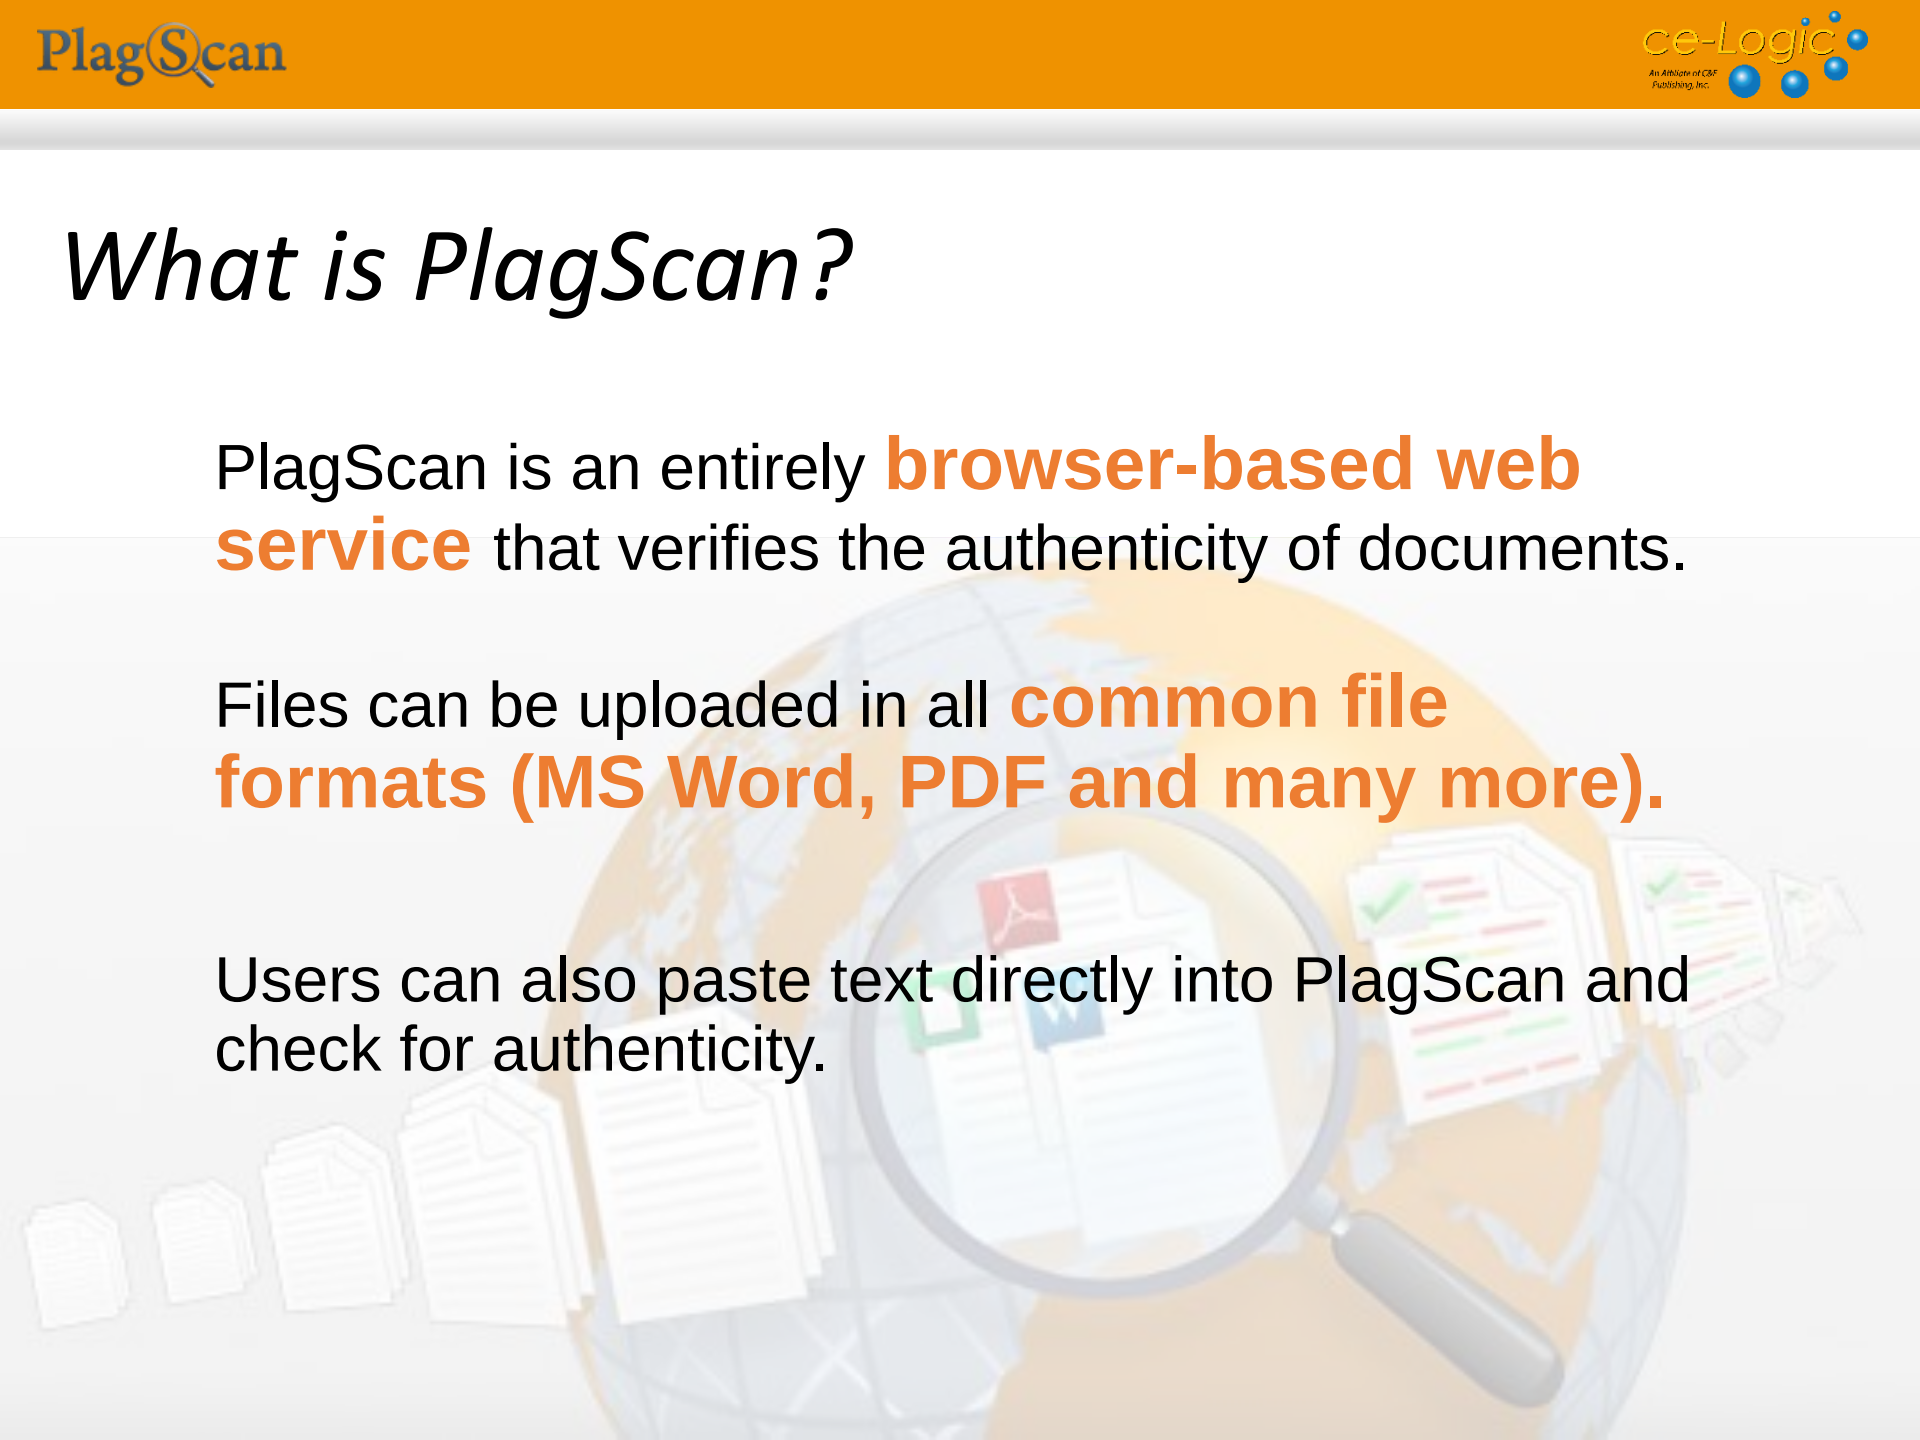
Users can also paste text directly into PlagScan and check for authenticity.



Some Figures…

PlagScan is used worldwide - more than 1000 organizations on all continents work with PlagScan.

PlagScan accesses billions of documents for the detection of plagiarism.

The search index is updated and expanded on a daily basis.

More than 1 million tested documents each year, including 300,000 research papers.

PlagScan was independently tested and ranked first in terms of usability and online service by TopTenReviews.com in 2013.

Plagiarism software, a tool to foster creativity

Creativity is key not only to write original documents and researches but also to distinguish yourself between the thousands of information available on the internet. We believe that PlagScan should be used as a tool enabling people to foster their originality. "Don't be satisfied with stories, how things have gone with others. Unfold your own myth" (Rumi, The Essential Rumi). Publishing original content is a way for people and institutions to prove their uniqueness.

Table 1: Statements about plagiarism; author's compilation

The impact of plagiarism in general has been reflected in an ongoing discussion about how to handle cases of plagiarism. Indeed, thanks to the age of information, people and institutions are more and more "borrowing" information without any kind of citation. Most of the schools and universities are therefore representing one or more than one of the statements in Figure 1 with more or less flexibility.

"In universities around the world, plagiarism management is an ongoing issue of quality assurance and risk management." (Sutherland-Smith, 2013) Plagiarism management discourses are mostly framed by legal concepts of authorial rights, and penalties for infringement of
